

EGPiS2 - Encouraging Girls' Participation in Sports 2

EGPiS 2 Second Newsletter

After the second international meeting, held in Cyprus last March, EGPiS2 project enters in a new phase that will involve all the partners across Europe in piloting of formative activities.

This specific phase of the project, that, as said, will be carried out all over the partner countries, has been ideated and developed by the English partner Access to Sport, discussed and approved during the above mentioned meeting.

During this action, partners will be committed in training courses carried out among the specific target groups involved in the project activities: parents, P.E. teachers, trainers and coaches.

These activities, that will be carried out according to each partner's specific needs, will have one main goal: address those groups that can really play an active and effective role achieving the objective EGPiS2 set since its very beginning. That's why every course that will be aiming to the above mentioned target groups will enclose specific themes and features that will provide a safe know-how "toolkit" that each group will be able to apply in its activities.

Moreover, EGPiS2 project is going to enter in another interesting and crucial part of its development: the shooting of the video. Meant to be an emotional video, it will enclose a fictional characters' everyday routine life in sport activities. The main plot of the video is developed around a girl who has to face difficulties and issues sport-related and that will find the strength to overcome such problems in her father and her coach, who will allow her to play her favourite sport without any pressure and just for the fun of enjoying it.
